

ANIHCCAM

del 3000

REIMAGINING ITALIAN FUTURISM IN THE 21ST CENTURY

Team still hard at work to recreate Depero's world

Anihccam Progress

The week following halves began with more scenes being actualized into a 3D world. The final shots were laid out and animated. There is still much work to do before the film can be presented but the team is fully confident that they will have a beautiful and well done final product.

In addition, three of the team members had the opportunity to go to Disney Animation Studios this week to learn about the animation industry and to hone their skills in their respective disciplines. What they learned can hopefully be applied into this animated piece.

This week also saw more progress on a second pre-visualization. The team needed to test the number of shots and sequence of the storyboard to make sure it still flowed nicely. This also helps to test any effects and the overall look between all the scenes for consistency.

The remaining part of the semester will focus on bringing all the scenes together and making the necessary final edits.

Figure 1: Scene 3 layout