

Inspired and fired up to create an awesome game!

Six brilliant minds have gathered at EA to create a mind blowing mobile game! They are - Nora Bastida, Daniel Hausmann, Sun-Moon Hwang, Dan-Ah Kim, Mohan Subramanian and Xiyuan Zero Liu.

First was the orientation. We were honored to be doing a project at EA where the environment was just fascinating and perfect for developing. We set up our computers and checked them to get ready for intensive game making process. Food was great and we had diverse choice.

Our client is SmileGate which has headquarters in Korea. We used Skype to talk about the project. After carefully listening to the client to understand what they wanted, we had a meeting to decide many things from our name, identity, meeting time to brainstorming methods that we will be using. The chosen team name is 'West-Turn' and it means that we will be creating a 'western' style of game that will be familiar to North American people.

The first week went fast. A lot of things were new and we are getting used to the new space. Everyone in the team is excited and fired up for the new project. We are heading towards the second week at EA.
