

Skyline Newsletter - Week 4

This week, we finally came to a conclusion on our overall story structure. We worked very hard to polish a storyboard for quarters and to create an animatic to give a feel for the timing as well as a shot by shot breakdown of what we envision. We also finished creating the poster, half sheet and team photo. In addition, we launched our website and will be updating it weekly. Next week, we will continue iteration on the animatic and also prepare for our quarter presentations on Friday.

Art Work

What we have done:

- invite some people to listen to our story, find out the backwards or logical problems we have.
- shot by shot breakdown of the story.
- over 100 frames of rough storyboard to be used for animatic
- some concept art for the main scenes.
- finish the poster, half sheet and team photo design.
- basic fracture testing.
- Music Mood Board

Problems we encountered:

- need to show our ideas and story visually.
- describe our storyboard with our passion.
- late half sheet submission.
- miscommunication with faculty about our travel request.
- need to write down each meetings note, and share all the informations.

The goal for the next week:

- prepare the presentation for ¼ walkaround.
- polish our storyboard.
- improve the interest curve for our story.
- discuss the assets for our story plan.
- compile initial asset list
- discuss the effects details.
- more concept design for main characters.
